QUES 1	Our Constitution has adopted the best features of most of the major constitutions of the world as per the needs of the country. Though borrowed from almost every constitution in the world, the constitution of India has several salient features that distinguish it from the constitutions of other countries. Critically analyse the statement.	10	CO1	BT5
QUES 2	'The Directive Principles constitute a manifesto of a Nation. These reflect the ideas and views which were there in the mind of the drafters while drafting the constitution. These reflected the philosophy behind the making of the Constitution and hence provide useful information to the courts in interpreting the existing provisions in the Constitution and in coming up with better laws and policies.' Analyse the statement with suitable illustrations.	10	CO1	BT5
QUES 3	'The constitution of Indian is one of the most fascinating documents on this planet. No other country has a constitution as comprehensive as ours and is the largest constitution in the world. But despite being so comprehensive, the reason why this document is so interesting is due to the fact that it is extremely flexible. The fathers of our constitution made it so, they wished that the constitution would not	10	CO1	BT5 only aid the country to grow but it would also grow alongside it. Thus, the government can amend the constitution depending on various issues brought up. These powers are given by Article 368.' Analyse with suitable illustrations.

QUES 4	Explain the various kinds of emergency provisions given in Indian Constitution along with their importance with suitable illustrations.	10	C01	BT5
QUES 5	'Fundamental rights are those rights that are important for the moral and intellectual development of all people. These are required for the all-around development of individuals, hence called fundamental rights.' Explain with suitable examples.	10	C01	BT4
QUES 6	Explain the concept of federal structure and analyse the centre state relations as given under Indian Constitution.	10	C01	BT5

Q.6	"The Ministry of Home Affairs issued an order granting authority to 10 Central agencies, including the Delhi Commissioner of Police, the CBI, and the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence, to pry on individual computers and their receipts and transmissions under powers conferred on it by sub-section 1 of Section 69 of the Information Technology Act, 2000 (21 of 2000), read with Rule 4 of the Information Technology (Procedure and Safeguards for Interception, Monitoring and Decryption of Information) Rules, 2009". It has authorized these "security and intelligence agencies" to intercept, monitor and decrypt any "information generated, transmitted, received or stored in any computer resource". This is seen as an extreme measure to deny people their right to privacy — more so because agencies such as the Delhi Police, the CBI, and the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence cannot be strictly termed as organizations concerned with homeland security. Internal security is the main excuse being given for issuing such a directive." Comment in the light of Telegraph Act and IT Act. By referring to K.S. Puttaswamy judgement.	20	C04	L4

Section A
Q.1	Explain and contrast the meaning of Treaties and Customs as sources of international law. Mention the various stages/steps of formation/conclusion of treaties.  'A' State, located on Park Strait, was used as an international waterway as per the Treaty of Passage Through Park Islands, 1970. A vessel 'Robinhood', belonging to State 'B' was stopped by State 'A' on the ground that it was carrying arms/ammunition to a third country which was at war State 'C', an ally of State 'A'. The State 'B' challenged this act in the ICJ, contending that the act violates the Treaty, to which both the States were signatories which provides for free passage of all vessels of all nations at peace with State 'A'. State 'A', on the other hand, relied on an international custom which permitted stopping of vessels carrying arms. Whose claim shall succeed and why?	10	CO2, CO4	BT6

Q.NO.	QUESTIONS	MARKS	CO	BLOOM'S LEVEL
Q1.	Comparative public law gives us an exciting view of constitutional, administrative and legal functioning of various countries. Despite its widespread prevalence all over the world, many comparative advocates still believe that comparative public law has remained a department of comparative law rather than an autonomous discipline. Taking the hints from the above statements together with your own idea and understanding, write an article in about 700-800 words giving it a suitable title.	25	CO1,2	BT4
Q2.	With reference to constitutionalism, there is a lack of consensus across law and related disciplines. However, there exists some degree of consensus that the constitutionalism principle requires that all government action must comply with the constitution. That's not enough, the concept of constitutionalism still is quite complex and goes beyond.-In the light of this, briefly discuss touching upon constitutionalism, its features and how it is distinct from constitution.(700-800 words)	25	CO3	BT5
Q3.	Write Short notes(in 400-500 words each) a. Parliamentary Govt. b. Salient Features of Unified Law	25	CO1,2	BT1,2,3
Q4.	One of the defining elements of bureaucracy is civil service employment: the selection and promotion of public officials based on merit and insulated from	25	CO 5	BT6

	political influence through tenured employment. The legal guarantees of civil service employment emerged to serve multiple ends: autocratic rulers in seeking to consolidate their authority (Prussia), political elites adapting the instruments of the government to the demands of industrialization (Britain) and government reformers intent on shielding administration from the instability and incompetence of party –patronage appointments (France and the USA). In Europe, Japan and North America, civil service safeguards were introduced over the course of the nineteenth century, beginning in the 1840s in France, 180 in Britain, 1873 in Prussia, 1882 in Canada, 1887 in Japan and 1883 in the USA. In the light of the above information, discuss the system of public administration, administration and courts, touching upon the systems of judicial review and principles of administrative action—both procedural as well as substantive principles in comparative context. (700-800 words)
OR	The judiciary, being guardian of socio-economic rights and arbitrator of constitutional conflicts regarding division of powers between Union and States, is competent to judicially review both federal and state actions, thereby restoring public confidence. Both US and Indian constitution provides for judicial review of legislative and administrative actions along with exercise of powers by constitutional, public, quasi-judicial and governmental authorities at, both union and state level. However, the scope in US is wider owing to the test of due process of law and not procedure established by law. Apart from restoring public confidence, judicial review also results in legitimizing authoritative action and protecting constitutional rights. Keeping the above points in mind, write an essay on Judicial Review in India and USA. (700-800 words)	25	CO4	BT5
