11. Learning from Peers

The University has developed the learning process called “Learning from Peers”, Peer-to-peer learning fosters collaborative knowledge sharing among students, encouraging them to learn from one another’s perspectives, experiences, and skills. It creates an interactive environment where students actively engage in discussions, solve problems collectively, and support each other’s academic and personal growth. This approach not only enhances understanding of complex concepts but also builds communication, teamwork, and leadership skills, essential qualities for future professional success.

12. Promoting Peace and Inclusivity through Sports

Manav Rachna University recognizes sports as a vital tool for fostering peace, justice, and strong institutions in alignment with SDG 16. The university's sports ecosystem promotes inclusivity, discipline, teamwork, and mutual respect, values essential for building peaceful and just societies. Through inter-school, inter-university, and intra-clan tournaments, students from diverse backgrounds come together, transcending social and cultural boundaries to compete in the spirit of fairness and camaraderie. The university's clan-based sports activities involving Water Sharks, Forest Rhinos, Air Falcons, and Wild Cats encourage collaborative participation, leadership, and conflict resolution through healthy competition. By embedding ethics, respect, and equality in all sporting events, MRU uses sports as a platform to nurture responsible citizenship, enhance community bonds, and strengthen institutional harmony, thereby reinforcing the principles of peace, justice, and inclusivity.
